MINES AND MINING

Items About Nevada's Leading Industry Clipped From Exchanges.

Work is to be resumed in the St. Louis mine in Devil's gate district, Lyon county. The St. Louis is one of the oldest locations in Devil's gate district and in the early sixties $160,000 in gold was taken from a hole sunk a few feet below the surface croppings.

It is reported that a big mining deal has been closed and that the copper property near Genoa, Douglas county, will pass into the hands of capitalists.

A cage with a carload of rock fell 200 feet in the shaft of the Star mine at Cherry Creek, White Pine county, last week, severely injuring W. Hughes and Gus Ghini.

The Glasgow & Western company has advanced the wages of the miners working in the Star shaft, and work is being pushed with all speed, says the White Pine News.

Return from the Humboldt concentrates shipped to Philadelphia from White Pine county shows this ore to be of the very highest grade, running over 70 per cent tungstic acid.

The Young America mine at Tuscarora has been shut down. The shut-down is mainly due to the fact that the gasoline engines at the mine and mill were not equal to the work required of them.

To benighted doctors Rev. J. T. W. Vernon, of Hartwell, Ga., writes: "For a long time I had a running sore on my leg. I tried many remedies without benefit, until I used a bottle of Electric Bitters and a box of Bucklen's Arnica Salve which cured me sound and well." Sores, Eruption, Boils, Eczema, Tetter, Salt Rheum show impure blood. Thousands have in Electric Bitters a grand blood purifier that absolutely cures these troubles. Satisfaction is guaranteed or money refunded. S. J. Hodgkinson. Large bottles only 50 cents.

NOT ANYTHING TO AID LABOR.

Is there a reason, a cause, or a circumstance connected with a reason or a cause that should induce a laboring man to vote for McKinley? When a survey is made of the political situation there is not anything that should induce labor to support the man.
He is fully committed to all the schemes there are at present and will be in the future to take from labor its earnings to build colossal fortunes, through illegitimate means, for the promoters of trusts in all departments in which they are robbing the people.
He is depending upon trusts and those identified with them for an election to a second term.

When it is known that such facts are present as a means to secure his re-election, there is no reason that he should to any probable cause in the future that would change the course of a second administration by him in favor of more liberal methods for the benefit of the people. There is no anything that commends his administration to the country in any particular. It has not only been a failure in all there is good and businesslike in politics, but it has been and is a positive injury to labor, and to the industries of the country in all of its departments subject in any way to political direction, except trusts and monopolies.

These statements are assertions, but they are made subject to a knowledge of the truth they contain. When there is taken into review labor in the industrial departments in business with their surroundings, present and prospective, and there is not anything ascertained that will commend his administration, there is surely very little to cause any hope of better conditions in the future. When the political side is reviewed and an examination is made of the many matters which have been entered upon and have received attention, there is no anything to encourage the people respecting the future, as all there has been done is in opposition to the best interests of the country.

There is not anything to recommend the honesty of his government or to support a conclusion that it has been a failure in any particular American, and if not American, can it be said truthfully that it has been in any way beneficial to American interest? Before any judgment of approval founded on truth could be made it would be necessary to ascertain that his administration was directed to benefit the United States.

Much of the work of an administration with foreign governments is political. The relations of government respecting many things present and including very often much in the future pertaining to national affairs are more or less political in their nature. In many matters they are entirely political, and are in some departments political and commercial.
The war with Spain had its beginning in the interest of humanity, for the relief of an oppressed people.

The movement was wholly political between the United States and Spain, as it effected only the political relation of the nations at war having in view the independence of Cuba. The war was a beginning was approved by the people because of its humane aspect but a beginning in the interest of humanity and freedom had a disastrous ending in the case of humanity and slavery.
It will not be claimed by an enlightened people that the war was closed in the interest of humanity and freedom, both of these principles being identical with the highest interests of the people of the United States, any proceedings had in opposition to them were required to the detriment and injury of the American people through their humiliation before an enlightened world.

Proceedings that would not be degrading to an European monarchial government when the freedom of a weak people is involved, it being a part of the business of these governments to set aside violence in government by the people, could not be indulged in by the United States without a loss of self respect and the good opinion of others, which the people of the United States, occupying the position they occupy before the world, cannot afford to lose without positive injury.

The position of Porto Rico is not only a menace to free institutions at home, but it is a standing blot upon free government and an advertisement to the world that the United States is receding from its high position in government for the people and by the people. Government for the islands is an anomaly. It is in its nature foreign, and domestic, foreign when the constitution does not apply, domestic when the methods of trusts and McKinley-ism are applied. There cannot be any respect at home or abroad for a system without order, which gives to government in the islands the marking of imperialism and places the system among absolute governments, which is not creditable to the people of the United States, and to say the least that could be said truthfully about the system is a monstrous blunder.

There are three matters which might have been included in the system when providing it, ignorance, weakness and villainy, the former is believed are not included and were not present. The latter without any question about its truthfulness was present and included in all matters pertaining to imperialism under the United States system of government must have their origin and perpetuation in villainy. When the industrial people of the country take into consideration honestly the work of Congress at its last session and the course of the administration in all there was done by Congress, they will not arrive at any conclusion upon the work which will not include a positive wrong in some form to the man who earns his bread by honest labor.

ous assay by the ordinary process and $4.83 additional values were discovered.

*Didn't Sabe the Jackass Rabbits.
Yesterday morning an emigrant passed through Reno en route from the far east to California. He traveled with his family in a freight car which contained all his household effects, including a horse, a cow and a miscellaneous assortment of dogs, cats and poultry.
The emigrant was new to the jack rabbit proposition and told a Renoite at the station that "this dog rotted country is pecky full of Belgian hares."

A surprised and delighted audience was present at Amory hall last evening. ANOTHER SHERLOCK
A Law-Abiding Citizen Run in by an Amateur Detective.

Another amateur detective has been trying to get in his deadly work here. Friday evening one of those sleuths thought he had his man safe.
The detective gives the name M. Carlton, and says he has an office at 737 Market street, San Francisco.
Several weeks ago he drifted into Sierra Valley and got acquainted with Charlie Paschen, a young man working on the S. V. R. R. section gang.
The detective conceived the idea that this section man was a convict who had escaped from the Canon City, Colorado, prison. Paschen divined the sleuth's suspicion and began to pretend to be the party wanted.
Several days ago he came to Reno to take a place on the narrow gauge section. Carlton followed him to this city and degged his footsteps. Friday night he mysteriously beckoned to Charlie Paschen and Ward McNeilly and whispered to them that he had spun the web of evidence around a desperate escaped convict.
The officers took no stock in the detective's story until the latter flashed a telegram from the warden of the penitentiary and a description of the convict. Mr. Detective arrested the suspect and all four went down to police headquarters. The description failed to tally; Mr. Paschen fully identified himself and the drink were on the sleuth, who took the next train out of town.

FIREBUG
AT WORK

Another Blaze Attributed to the Bearer of the Midnight Torch.

Last evening about 8:30 another presumably incendiary fire took place in this city. It was set in the old paint shop in the rear of Buncel's blacksmith shop. The building has long been untenanted. It is a two-story structure, and is owned by Mrs. Stone of San Francisco, who has it well insured.
The blaze was noticed issuing from the south end of the building. It was seen by some one in Currie's livery stable. He turned in the alarm in the old fashioned manner, notwithstanding that there was a Gamewell box within 300 feet of the fire. A bucket brigade held the fire down until the arrival of the department, when the fire was easily extinguished.

Banquo's Ghost Arises Periodically to Haunt Us.

The pre-existent specter of a rival morning paper again arises to haunt us. A year ago it was rumored from the mountains to Mormondom that a new daily was about to make its appearance in Reno. We sweat blood for a week or two, but nothing tangible eventuated.
A few months later some Annanias started the report that Major Daniels was about to embark into the newspaper world again with a brand new rag. Every week Newlands, Jones, Tom, Dick, Harry or Sam were on the brink of starting that daily.
Here is the latest thing to give us the nightmare. It began in the Carson Weekly and wound up in the Gold Creek News:
"The new paper which is to be started at Reno will, it is said, make its first appearance about September 1, 1900. It is to be anti-Newlands with full telegraphic report. Two brilliant writers, formerly of the Chronicle and Examiner staff, will occupy the editorial chair."

FOLLOW
THE ORE

An Exchange Gives Local Prospectors Some Good Advice.

"Follow your ore," is the advice an experienced mining man gives. That depends. Of course a prospect should be followed until developments indicate the presence of a continuous body of ore. When its inclination and trend are ascertained and the conditions are favorable a crosscut tunnel may be run or a vertical working shaft may be sunk. But there is no arbitrary rule which applies to mining.
One must be governed by surrounding conditions. Follow your ore in a prospect, but in a camp of well established gold, silver or copper bearing rock, the dip and trend of which are known, the operator, possessing good sense, will be governed by the topography of his claim. He may sink a vertical working shaft to strike his lead at a certain depth or he may run a tunnel to crosscut it at such a depth as the initial work may determine. There is no arbitrary rule to carry on mining. Sound sense to take advantage of the conditions which surround a mining proposition, is the principle factor to success.—Arizona "Silver Belt."

New Camp Instituted.

Two or three score jolly Woodmen of this city went to Wadsworth last night to institute a new camp of Woodmen of the World. It started with a good round list of members.
A camp was started at Lovelock only a few days ago. This order is sweeping Nevada like fire in prairie grass.

NEVADA IS ALL RIGHT

Her Sons Are Mental and Physical Peers of Eastern Youth.

Nevada is the thinnest populated of all the states, but the sagebrushers size up pretty well when they rub elbows with people from less favored commonwealths.
This first sentence has the flavor of western bragadochie, but is nevertheless simply a plain statement of facts.
Proof of this is found in the contents of a postal received yesterday. It reads as follows:
U. S. M. A., WEST POINT, N. Y., July 30, 1900.
Miss Loulie Garges, Reno, Nevada:—I passed the exams. all right and enter tomorrow. McClure passed. Only 80 out of 150 passed. Will write tomorrow.
F. A. GARGES.
Both these lads will make Uncle Sam excellent officers. Physically, mentally and morally they are types of the flower of young American manhood.

A Bold, Bad Man.

About 11 last night cries for police were heard on Second street, and Uncle Dick, Ward and Charley fell all over themselves to see who could get there first. It seems that a drunk, crazy or homicidal individual fired an admiral's salute of cobblestones at a couple of inoffensive men who were quietly traveling homeward. No damage was done and the attacking party escaped in the slams.

Death of an Old Resident.

Nathaniel S. Cowles died in Spanish Springs valley Thursday night. The funeral will take place to-day at 2 o'clock from Perkins' undertaking parlors.
Mr. Cowles was aged 67 years, and was a native of Ohio. He leaves a family consisting of six children in the east, a sister at Truckee and a nephew in Spanish Springs valley.

A Truthful Nomenclature.
In a certain household the true and only Vermont maple sirup has never lost its sweetness, and several times a week from the head of the table paternalistic pours out judiciously measured quantities of it on the plates of his children. To give piquancy to the ceremony he always explains that this time he is going to give Bob an ostrich and Mazie an antelope, with something else from the nursery books for Teddy. One day the latter small philosopher was seen to regard the various plates for a considerable space of time in silence. "What is it, Edward?" his mother asked. "Nuffin," replied the hopeful. "I was just thinkin that me an Bob an Mazie allus seems to get birds an snakes an fings wiv skiny legs, but pop, generaly gets a el'phant or a hipperpotamus."—New York Commercial Advertiser.

Wanted a Stone.
"Have I not always been generous with you in the matter of household expenses?" he demanded. "Yes," she replied bitterly. "I asked for a stone and ye gave me bread." Then he realized that he would have to get her the diamond she desired before there would be peace in the family.—Chicago Post.

Strategy in the Pulpit.
"How did you gather such a large congregation of old and middle aged people?" asked the young minister of the old one. "I advertised a sermon to the young," was the latter's reply.—Chicago News.

Remarkable Cure of Rheumatism.
KENNA, Jackson Co., W. Va.
About three years ago my wife had an attack of rheumatism which confined her to her bed for over a month and rendered her unable to walk a step without assistance, her limbs being swollen to double their normal size. Mr. S. Maddox insisted on my using Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I purchased a fifty-cent bottle and used it according to the directions and the next morning she walked to breakfast without assistance in any manner, and she has nothad a similar attack since.—A. B.
